SEASON'S GREETINGS

To you, friends and customers, we're sending glad greetings, with every wish that you and yours may enjoy a most wonderful holiday time, blessed by good health, surrounded by good fellowship—and always in good cheer. For us, one of the brightest joys of the season is the opportunity it gives us to express, once again, our heartfelt gratitude for your continuing patronage and good will. Most heartily, we thank you!

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

O. C. SWORDS
County Agent

Christmas tree is a thing of beauty. But it can also be deadly.

Ever watch a dry Christmas tree burn? If the tree dries out in your home and catches fire, it can bring death and terror into your home.

Here are some good rules: Don't cut your tree or buy one too soon. When you cut your tree, store it in a cool place. Be sure to keep it moist.

When you cut the tree, it will bleed. Never place it where it will block an exit.

Use electric lights, no candles. Check the wiring. Make sure they are not frayed.

Be safe this Christmas!

DAIRY RECORDS

How much milk does that cow give? When is she due to calve? When was she last bred? When should I turn her dry?

These are just a few of the questions that a good set of dairy records answer for you.

You need records not only on individual dairy cow production, but records of breeding, calving and roughage as well.

The records can be very simple. Just a note written on the back door will serve the purpose.

Check with your local county agent about how to set up a set of records.

of records on your dairy herd. It will pay off.

LITTER IN POULTRY HOUSES

Poultry houses with plenty of litter on the floor are usually drier, more sanitary and more comfortable for the birds. Eggs are usually cleaner.

For winter, you need a deep litter—12 to 15 inches is desirable and in no case should be less than eight inches deep.

Check with your local county agent for type of litter more readily available in your area.

CHECK TOYS FOR SAFETY

The Christmas toys on display are fascinating, aren't they? But don't be carried away by them. . . and forget to look for the safety features.

Does the electrical toy you've been looking at bear the Underwriters' Laboratories label? It should for safety's sake. Be sure the toys for the smallest one have a non-poisonous paint job, smooth edges and no small parts he can pull out and swallow.

Remember the age of the child you are selecting a toy for. One that is safe and suitable for a 10-year-old may be just the opposite for a 4-year-old.

DECEMBER PLentiful

Look for plenty of broilers and cranberries in your grocery stores during December. They are the headliners on the plentiful foods list for the month.

Other plentiful include onions, dates, vegetable fats and oils, peanuts and peanut products, dry beans, and sweet potatoes.

TURKEY COCKTAIL

1 cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 1/2 teaspoons prepared horseradish

5 to 10 drops tabasco

1 cup diced celery

1 cup diced cooked turkey

6 lemon wedges

Combine chili sauce, lemon wedges, juice, horseradish and tabasco.

Chill well. Line individual cocktail cups with lettuce. Place celery on greens and top with turkey. Pour cocktail sauce over turkey and serve with lemon wedges.

FORESTRY OFFICERS — The Passing the gavel to his successor, new officers for the coming year is Ralph S. The Christmas Story

While shepherds watched their flocks, and angels sang, Christ was born in Bethlehem. May the inspiration of the Christmas story give you long-lasting happiness.

UNITED GAS invites Industries . . . and Vacationers, too

Every new industry locating in the Gulf South provides additional job opportunities and increased payrolls. Every family vacationing in the area puts money in circulation that boosts the overall economy. That's why our company has taken the lead in advertising the advantages of the Gulf South area we serve. This activity began more than 21 years ago, and the advertisement shown above is one of the full-color pages we published this year in Time, Newsweek and U. S. News & World Report. We believe this is one of the ways in which we can help to build a greater and more prosperous economy throughout the area we serve in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, southern Alabama and northwest Florida . . . the Gulf South.

The Greatest Gift

It's wonderful to receive "the world" for Christmas—but think how much more wonderful it would be if we could give Christmas to the world! If the true Christian spirit could permeate the globe, all fear of war, destruction, extermination, would be over.

It is only through the Church that Christian teachings can hope to reach to the darkest corners on earth, bringing enlightenment in their wake. By proclaiming God's eternal message, the Church can bring the hope of peace closer to reality.

But if Christmas is to be given to the world, then all of us must first do our part by living our own individual lives in the Christian way. Start now—by attending regularly the church of your faith.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A CHRISTMAS RESTITUTION
BY

MARY WENDELL stood at her bedroom window scratching at the frost on the glass. It was bitterly cold outside, with a hard wind blowing. Deep snow covered the ground and clung to the leafless trees, and the birds who had neglected to return to the warmer south huddled in such shelter as could be found.

Mary's face wore a look of sorrow and dejection, and a sob rose once in a while to relieve the tension that otherwise threatened to engulf her.

She had tried to save a little money for Christmas, but after paying her bills she hadn't a cent left. Christmas's hadn't mattered much because Donnie had been too young to know about such things. This year he had heard people talk about Santa Claus and had asked questions.

It was the day before Christmas, a time of cheer and good will. But there was no cheer in her heart. Life had been trying for her since she had left Concord and cut herself off from her friends of former days. Sickness and the loss of one job after another had kept her on the edge of destitution.

"May I come in," he inquired.

"Mommie, will Santa bring me something?" Donnie had asked when she had put him to bed the night before.

"I don't know, darling," she had answered, knowing she couldn't buy him even a stick of candy.

She raised her head and looked at the crib where he was sleeping. He was well covered and warm. She left the window and went into the sitting room where a cheery fire dispelled most of the cold. She went to the window and pulled the shade down as it, unconsciously, she could dispose of the black mood that assailed her.

In the center of the room she fell to her knees. "Oh, God," she prayed in anguish, "please lift my burden from me. I know I did wrong, but I know you have forgiven me by allowing me to keep my little boy. Please, God, provide me with the means of making this a happy time for him, in recognition of Your Son's sacrifices for us. Amen."

Visitor

A knock on the door brought her to her feet. She glanced that way but didn't cross the room until it was repeated. Then she opened the door to confront a tall, blond man in army uniform who stood in the dimly lit hallway. She recognized him instantly.

"Why, Donald Bruce," she cried hoarsely.

"May I come in?" he inquired. She was too startled to answer, so he laughingly brushed her aside and entered.

He took a quick look around the room and noticed the evidences of poverty. "Why did you quit writing?" he inquired.

"There wasn't much to say," she answered weakly.

He went to the doorway of the kitchen and looked inside. Then he crossed the room to the bedroom doorway, saying: "It seems to me there could have been a lot to say."

His eyes took in the crib and the baby in it. He hurried across the room, Mary following him. He looked down and studied the face of the sleeping child for a few minutes, and then turned to Mary with an unspoken inquiry in his eyes.

"That's why I left Concord—to avoid the talk and gossip," she said.

He looked again at the child searchingly, and then said: "Why didn't you tell me?"

"I didn't think you would care." "Good Heavens, woman, do you think I'm heartless? Do you think I'd have left you to face all this alone without my help?"

He held his arms out to her, and she drew into them, the tears coming freely.

"Mommie, has Santa come yet?" "In a little while, dear, and he's going to bring you a new pup," she answered.

JIM KENNEDY'S CHRISTMAS

BY D.L. ALEXANDER

BEFORE the echoes of the prison siren had died away over the hills, Jim Kennedy was well on his way toward a cherished freedom and his family.
Where speed had been essential, extreme caution became imperative. He kept below the skyline, well away from the highway with its occasional cars and searching spotlights. Away from the farm houses with their barking dogs.
Slogging along through the slush and snow with one thought uppermost in his mind: To spend Christmas at home with his wife
Millie and their two children,
Marian and Joe.

Back at the prison they would be certain he was headed for home. They might even be waiting for him when he arrived, but there was one thing in his favor:
At this time of the year the road to his remote cabin was impossible for cars, and he might get there before they did.

He slogged on for two days and nights. He ate sparingly of the meager food he had pilched from the prison tables. The weather was not too cold and he took sit-tle rests beneath jutting cliffs and abandoned shacks. But the overpowering desire to reach his home drove him onward, insensible to the discomforts of his travel.

His mind often returned to his prison life. Especially did he think of Lemaster, the guard over his company. He held a bitter, consuming hatred for the man. Always riding him about

Somehow he found the path down to the valley floor.

prison rules, making him toe the mark, but ignoring similar instructions committed by others.
Rules! Rules! The man didn't let him live for rehabilitation, but by rules. He hoped Lemaster would be dead by the time they took him back.

The morning Jim stood on the bluff overlooking the little valley would always remain a bright spot in his memory. The tears that gathered in the corners of his eyes were not the result of cold. The lump in his throat was caused by pent-up emotion, finally released when he realized he had won through.

The mists in the valley raised suddenly and the cabin stood out in startling reality. Smoke poured from the chimney and yellow light splashed from the windows onto the snow.

Somewhat blindly he found the path down to the valley floor.
The delighted voices of the children came to him through the cloud of snow he kicked up as he rushed to the door. And then he had Millie in his arms.

Welcome Sight

There was an interval of silence, and then heart-felt expressions of joy and pleasure. When it had somewhat subsided Jim looked around. The homey surroundings were the same as when he left, excepting the Christmas tree in the corner. It was brilliantly lighted, and numerous packages and toys clustered around the base.

He took a step towards it, but Millie pushed in front of him and,
reaching toward the tinsel star
at the top, took down a long envelope.

"For you," she said, with a bright smile.

"What is it?" he asked, wondering.

"Open it and see."

"It means a Merry Christmas and a full pardon for you." It was the hated voice of Lemaster who had come up behind him.

Jim whirled about. "You here?"
he asked bitterly.

"I knew you wanted to come home long ago, Jim. I had to report on your behavior, and to make sure I could make a good report on you I made you live up to every rule strictly. You ranked as a number one, and when the pardons were handed out yours was the first."

Jim had slowly lifted his head as hope sprung anew in him. He gazed mistily into Lemaster's eyes. "I've had you all wrong, Cap. I thought you was riding me all the time for spite work."

"That's all right. Forget it.
I'm going to have a Merry Christmas with you folks if you'll let me stay."

...the years from ancient times to space age are featured in the new 1961 Telephone Almanac, now being distributed in Bay St. Louis.

COPIES of the booklet are available at the Bay Telephone Exchange, according to J. C. Delaney, Manager for South-eastern Bell.

From Cleveland, Miss., messages carried by gas-filled balloons and the first undersea telegraph cable in 1858 are other early methods of communication described in the almanac.

THE 1961 edition, with a picture of the Echo 1 communications satellite on its cover, contains information expected to be found in an almanac. It includes the calendar, holidays, and historical happenings for each day, along with the astronomical doings of the sun and moon. Since it is a telephone almanac, it naturally tells of recent telephone company developments and new services.

This is the 26th Telephone almanac. The widely-distributed annual publication first appeared in 1922. One year, 1945, was skipped because of wartime paper shortages.

May your Christmas be a merry one.

Everywhere
In Mississippi

THERE was no room for them in the inn. There was no room for the Christ Child. Yet God so loved the world that He gave His Son, Jesus, who came bringing Love . . . Joy . . . Peace.

We often feel let-down after Christmas because there was no room in our lives for Jesus and His gifts. If we begin now to prepare for His birthday, we will be ready to receive His gifts of love . . . joy . . . peace.

The Episcopal Churches of Mississippi invite you to join with them now in preparing to receive the Christ Child into your lives.

PIKE COUNTY ACTS TO ATTRACT INDUSTRY

Pike County's board of supervisors, declaring— "We can't work too hard to get industry," has elected to come under the provisions of House Bill 112, Laws of 1960, which exempts manufactured goods still in the hands of the manufacturer or in warehouses from ad valorem tax at the discretion of county and municipal governing bodies. This is one of the bills in the "Industrial Bill of Rights" package.

Heavy Outlays for Aid to Polio Victims Cause Drain on March of Dimes Funds

"The National Foundation has the distinction and the honor of having exhausted its March of Dimes funds for patient aid," Basil O'Connor, its president, announced recently.

"Therefore, the March of Dimes has a $45 million job to do in 1961," he added.

"But we always have had a tremendous job to do and have relied on the American people for financial support through the March of Dimes each January," he said. "At the same time, however, we do not live just from year to year but build broad research, educational and patient-aid programs for much longer periods. Continuation of these programs will require $45 million in 1961."

Speaking of the "urgent monetary needs of the 1961 New March of Dimes," to be held Jan. 2-31, the leader of the world's largest voluntary health organization explained that in 1960 about one-third of its 3,100 chapters had gone into debt to meet hospital and other bills for aid to polio victims.

"But our chapters are proud that they have not built up bank balances at the expense of human lives," he said.

Since 1938, when The National Foundation (for Infantile Paralysis) was organized, a total of $225,200,000 has been spent for direct patient aid to polio victims. In 1960, the bill was about $13,250,000 for some 40,000 of the polio-stricken. Although the Salk vaccine has been available to the public for five years, patient-aid costs remain high chiefly for those stricken before the vaccine was developed, or for those who since 1956 neglected to get inoculated and thus contracted polio.

March of Dimes monetary assistance to individual polio sufferers has sometimes been extremely great. To cite two instances only, patient-aid costs in the case of Mrs. Ingeborg Cully, of New York City, thus far have totaled about $25,000 and the end is not in sight; while expenditures for Tommy Examples: $25,000 was spent on Ingeborg Cully . . .

Davey, six years old, of Boston, have reached $50,000.

Aside from the enormous financial toll in patient aid, substantial New March of Dimes contributions must also be used for research. Since 1938 The National Foundation has allocated $64,600,000 on its broad-based international research program which has produced, among other outstanding achievements, the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines and, incidentally, two Nobel prizes. In 1960, research funds are estimated at $5,000,000 covering The National Foundation's three health areas of birth defects, arthritis and polio.

More than twice that sum, or $10,400,000, is needed for research in 1961.

March of Dimes contributions have also made possible the largest education program for the training of medical and health experts ever attempted by a voluntary health agency. Since 1939, when The National Foundation launched its program of professional education, outlays in this field have totaled $34,900,000; in 1960, a total of $1,500,000 in March of

. . . while another $50,000 was needed for Tommy Davey.

Dimes public contributions was required for the health organization's professional education activities. In 1961, $3,900,000 is needed for this part of the program.

WHAT CAN BE DONE—ponder the causes of destructive fires, as follows — Defective or overheated cooking and heating equipment. Careless smoking and disposal of matches. Defective or improperly used electric wiring and equipment. Children playing with matches. These are the major factors although there are numerous other causes of destructive fires can be substantially reduced if it is remembered at all times that fire is a useful servant but a terrible master.

TRIP TO WASHINGTON D. C. $1,000 CASH ESSAY PRIZES

Mississippi's eleventh and twelfth grade high school students are eligible to compete for $1,000 cash and an all expense paid trip to Washington, D. C., and to help the state's handicapped citizens at the same time.

These rewards are first prizes in the 13th annual essay contest sponsored by the President's and the governors' committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Four other national awards include expense paid trips and cash awards totaling $1,000 contributed by the Disabled American Veterans.

The five national winners will be presented certificates signed by the President, and plaques will be sent their respective high schools.

Theme for the 1961 contest is "Jobs for the Handicapped — a Community Challenge."

The state contest committee, headed by George N. Sadka, medical social consultant, for the State Vocational Rehabilitation Division, has mailed details of the contest to county superintendents of education, principals, and high school English

Located on the Bay of St. Louis, the Oblate Fathers' Pine Hills Seminary will be the site of the 11th convention of the Oblate Education Congress during the post-Christmas holidays. The meeting will bring together 65 leading Oblate educators from the university, college, high school and seminary levels. The Association's topic of discussion this year deals with the arts of communication in education; the specific theme is Educating in Public Relations.

Held every two years, the Association is recognized by the National Office of Education and serves as a means to bring about closer co-ordination and mutual advancement in Oblate education. Busy as their schedule will be, the Oblate convention group has set aside one afternoon to tour the beautiful and historic Gulf Coast area.

The Association's decisions affect over 60,000 students in Oblate schools throughout North America. The chairman of this year's congress is Fr. Thomas F. Crump, OMI, professor at Our Lady of Hope Seminary, Newburgh, New York. Many Oblate dignitaries will be on hand including provincials and the Superior General of the more than 7,000 Oblates, Most Rev. Leo Deschamps, OMI.

Although devoted to missionary work, the Oblates in North America have established 39 educational institutions. These include the University of Ottawa, nine colleges, 10 junior colleges and 12 high schools. In addition, the Oblates staff eight major seminaries of scholastics.

Such is Pine Hills, where Oblate students spend their final six years (it takes nine years of study after high school to finish the necessary scholastic training) of study.

The Oblate Fathers purchased the abandoned Pine Hills resort hotel in 1953, and began operations without electrical power, heat or furniture. Early student plastering walls and ceilings pouring cement, landscaping, and painting etc.

Today visitors to the seminary find it difficult to believe that the building was derelict just six years ago. In 1959 Pine Hills was accredited as a liberal arts college by the Mississippi College Accrediting Commission, the first Catholic institution in the state to achieve this distinction.

At present, a staff of 10 priest-professors, headed by Rev. Michael Deiss, OMI, Rector, instruct 69 students.

Two years ago, the last meeting of the group, the Oblate Educators met in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Louis E. Maunus, New Orleans, dentist and a former Bay St. Louis resident, was killed instantly Sunday night when he was struck by a car while crossing Chief Menteur Highway near the 14-mile Post.

Returning home after spending the weekend in Bay St. Louis, he apparently crossing the Highway to a service station on the opposite side of the road when a fire on his car went flat and was hit when he attempted to recross.

Dr. Maunus, who was born January 27, 1904, attended the former Rugby Academy in New Orleans and graduated from Loyola University dental school.

While at Loyola, he served as manager of the championship football team in 1926 and was a member of Psi Omega dental fraternity and Epsilon Beta Lambda social fraternity. He also held membership in the American Dental Association.

He resided at 3122 Jefferson Avenue, New Orleans and maintained a residence in Bay St. Louis.

Survivors include his wife Mrs. Flora May Sutton Maunus; two sons, Louis and Victor Maunus, both of New Orleans and a brother, Eugene Maunus of New Orleans.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 11:30 a. m. from Tharp-Southmeier-Tharp, Inc., with religious rites at St. Matthias Church. Interment was in Hope Mausoleum.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN SHORT OF 1960 GOAL

Hancock County is still short on its 1960 Christmas Seal Campaign goal of $708.30 Mrs. Robert Fayard, chairman, said this week but the campaign committee is hopeful that the difference will be made up soon by the late returns now coming in.

The amount collected to date she added is $654.65.

Many of the late returns, Mrs. Fayard added, have been accompanied by brief letters of explanation.

One donor wrote, "I regret the delay, but I am consoled by the fact that your association works the year round, not just during the Christmas season."

Delayed returns with or without explanations are still welcome Mrs. Fayard stressed, as the committee is counting on these returns to meet the county goal.

A Hancock County Tuberculosis Assn. and its plans for the necessary expansion of its tuberculosis control projects depend on meeting the goal. The campaign for funds is conducted during the Christmas season, but the work of the association is not limited to one season—it goes on 12 months of the year, Mrs. Fayard concluded.

Dr. H. A. Eldredge, 79, Died Wednesday, Dec. 21, At His Residence

Dr. Hartwell Eldredge, 79, died at 8 a. m. Wednesday, December 21, at his residence, 906 South Beach, following an illness of several months.

A native of Abbeville, La., Dr. Eldredge received his education at Sewanee University of the South and at Baylor University. He was a practicing physician in Abbeville, La., until moving to Bay St. Louis in 1922. He retired from active practice four years ago.

Dr. Eldredge was a member of the American Medical Association, a Mason and Shriner and a member of Christ Episcopal Church.

During World War I he served as a medical officer and was also an officer of the Bank of Abbeville and the Merchants Bank and Trust Company.

He served as president of the Building and Loan Association in Abbeville.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anna Mae Watts Eldredge; one daughter, Mrs. Willie Gayle; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted from Fahy-Whitfield Funeral Home Thursday morning at 10:15 a. m. followed by religious rites at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery.

He So Loved...

HE TAUGHT THE WORLD TO LOVE

For God so Loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son...

How meaningfully are these words today, nearly two thousand years after the humble beginning of that One Great Life in Bethlehem. How holy and purposeful was this life upon earth that it comes to us again and again in the spirit of Christmas to remind that the real joy and the real goodness of life lie not in riches and gold, or self attainment, but in thoughtful and unselfish service and love.

For He so loved the world that He taught the world to love. Through one, great and wonderful life upon earth. He set down for all mankind and for all time the supreme example of the good life. In His every deed and action He portrayed the qualities of love and faith and kindness.

These qualities—and more—are all a part of Christmas. But, by His example, they are qualities that should abound in our lives throughout the years.

In thankfulness to God, for all His goodness and love, we should keep the Christmas in its true and joyful meaning, the spiritual occasion of the birth of Christ. And if we can keep the spirit of Christ within our hearts throughout the year.

DRIVE CAREFULLY — STAY ALIVE FOR CHRISTMAS...

What price in traffic deaths will Mississippi pay this Christmas?

Twelve persons died in highway accidents last Christmas Day, the day of peace on earth, goodwill to men.

According to the Mississippi Highway Patrol, the toll in highway carnage may go as high—or higher this Christmas unless motoring Mississippians put the meaning of Christ back into Christmas. Fatal traffic accidents have occurred with alarming frequency throughout 1960, despite increased traffic law enforcement measures taken by traffic agencies at both the local and state level.

Will this Christmas be a repeat or worse, than last year's bloody highway sacrifice?

"Not if motorists put Christ back into Christmas," says Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton. "We must not limit the Spirit of Christmas to our homes and to our family and friends," he adds. "We must apply it to our driving as well."

During last year's long Christmas holiday weekend, 369 traffic mishaps injured 167 persons and killed 18, one of the most costly Christmases experienced in Mississippi history.

WAVELAND

WANDERINGS

by

GEORGETTE B. HALL

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Lister, owners of the Pirate House, entertained last Thursday evening at a dinner party honoring Mr. John E. Koon, Louisiana State Fire Marshal, former mayor of Monroe, La. and member of the legislature and Mr. Hope Mae of New Orleans, Louisiana State Supervisor of the Fire Department. Also present was Waveland's own mayor, Honorable Garfield Ladner, who was made an honorary Fire Marshal of the State of Louisiana by the Messrs. Koon and Mae. Mayor Ladner was presented with a sterling silver badge.

The dinner honoring the Lister guests was served in the beautifully appointed dining room of the Pirate House. The table was set with an imported French tablecloth and red candles in tall candelabra added to the holiday touch. The main dish was roasted Mallard duck, cooked to perfection and complete with all the trimmings.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Charles Ferry who has been hospitalized due to a bout of pneumonia. The wishes of all his friends to Harry Lynch are for a speedy get-well and a return to his business. During this happy Christmas season, it just doesn't seem right not to see Harry in his accustomed place in the drug store.

We hope that this column will be the first to wish not only a Merry Christmas, but a Happy Birthday to Waveland's own Eddie Lulei who will celebrate both on Christmas Day, December 25. This column has never failed to wish Eddie both a Yuletide and a natal day greeting. His good to know that Eddie's health has improved so that he can spend the holidays at home with loved ones and friends.

Congratulations to James Mayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mayfield, of old Pecan Grove, Waveland, who has announced that he has signed to play football on the Greenie Squad next year. James, a senior at Bay High School and a member of the Tiger Squad, starred for the past two years on the Tiger eleven and was twice voted for honors on the All Conference team. James is a very conscientious student, a high scholastic and is a member of the school's Beta Club. Those of us who know that James wishes to continue his education following graduation from high school are delighted indeed that this outstanding young man has chosen Tulane University to continue his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall and daughter, Lynne, left early this week to visit Mr. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Hall, Sr., in Rusk, Texas. They will return to their Waveland home on Friday in order to enjoy Christmas with all of the Brockman family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. White and children and Mr. White's mother, Mrs. E. White, are spending the holidays in Stowell and Anahuac, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Williams are looking forward to a gay holiday as their son and daughter and all their grandchildren will be with them in Waveland for the Christmas vacation. Coming from Houston will be Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas and children and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams and children.

Children of the Waveland Center had Christmas parties in their classrooms Friday as school closed for the holidays. The customary exchange of gifts among the children and teachers was followed by the enjoyment of refreshments and greetings for a happy holiday. "Room mothers assisted in each room. In the classroom of Miss Cecile Turcotte, room mothers helping with preparations were Mrs. A. E. White, Mrs. John R. Hayard, and Mrs. R. S. Grigsby. In the first grade classroom of Miss Mary Margaret Turcotte, mothers on hand to assist were Mrs. Roland Necaise, Mrs. John Harville, Mrs. Donald Dorn and Mrs. Sam Pernidaro.

Mrs. J. Faucetta and Mrs. G. Bondillion served as room mothers in the classroom party held in Mrs. Effie Mazarakis' room, and in Miss Mary Perkins' room, mothers who had helped were Mrs. Joyce Moore and Mrs. Leo Ferrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ferrell and children left Wednesday for Gilbert, West Virginia, where they will visit relatives and friends during the holidays.

Christmas is indeed in the air—if you haven't realized it yet or haven't gotten in the spirit, one has only to look at the decorations on Waveland's own Town

Billy, Sharon, Charlotte, Reuben III and Kerri Ruiz, children of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Ruiz, have their tree all decorated and are eagerly awaiting the arrival of Santa.

Shown above are Mrs. Joseph LaBat, Jr., with her first and second set of twins. The second set arrived on the third birthday of the first twins, December 10, 1960.

Hall. Its Yuletide cheer speaks out to one and all—the way from the dark green pine branches to the brightly shining Christmas tree that radiates the Christmas message. It's saying have a happy day with loved ones and friends, go to Church and wish the Christ Child a Happy Birthday and pray for peace on earth, and good will toward men. To our readers, thank you for keeping Waveland Wanderings going for another year. Bless you and... Merry Christmas!

Blessings

To our many friends and neighbors for the Christmas spirit...

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kerr, Jr. and their little brother Kerry, are shown by the Christmas tree in the home of their grandfather, Robert L. Gen. Photo by Carl Gustafson.

Miss Margaret Moreau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moreau, is home from Miss. Southern College for the Yule holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moreau and son Mark of Gretna and Malcolm and Louis Jr., of New Orleans, will arrive later in the week.

Mr. David Swanner of New Orleans returned home Monday after a visit with his niece Mrs. Andy Becker and Mr. Becker.

Mrs. Elizabeth Becker will spend Christmas in New Orleans with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heffernan and children.

Commander and Mrs. W. C. Humphrey will arrive Friday from Arlington, Va., for a visit with Mrs. H. M. Keefe.

Mr. Henry Larose, Sr. will spend Christmas in New Orleans as the guest of his son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Larose, Jr.

Yule holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Garner will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. William H. McCandless, Jr. and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. J. will spend Christmas weekend in Jackson as guests of the J. W. Irbys.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Becker and daughter Mary Ann will spend Christmas in New Orleans with her mother, Mrs. Florence Swanner.

Mrs. Margaret Kern will have as her guests for the Yule holidays Miss Adelaide Lydane, Miss Alma Heron and Mrs. Gladys de Treil, all of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Chapman of Florence, Alabama, will spend Xmas weekend with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chapman and children.

ENTERTAIN FOR GRANDSON

Mrs. Charles Poolson, Sr. entertained for her grandson (Chuck) Poolson last Monday on the occasion of his tenth birthday.

Birthday refreshments and games were enjoyed by Keen Rauxet, Barry Faye, Paul Raymond, Tony Gayart, Rea Elliott, Leo diBenedetto, Mike Ferry, John Heath and Terry Markel. Prizes were won by Rea Elliott and Leo diBenedetto.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. James Parsons, Jr. announce the birth of twin daughters Monday, December 19 in Mobile, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Parson have two other daughters and the new arrivals make ten granddaughters for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois.

Mrs. Bourgeois left Monday morning to be with her daughter.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Robin Pitolo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pitolo, Jr. celebrated her first birthday Friday, December 16, with a party at her home on Carroll Avenue.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. A pink and white numeral cake centered the table.

Robin's guests were Michel Mauffray, Mary Ann Scianna, Abby Murtagh, Karen Piazza, Angie Arceneaux, Terry Hills, Sherie Elliott and Katrina Kersanac.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hoesfeld recently returned from a ten day visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Simon in Houston, Texas.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Hoesfeld entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bethune of New Orleans, houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAuley.

Michael Eagan left Friday to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Eagan, Sr., in Washington, D. C.

BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. William Ford entertained at her Waveland home Sunday at a miscellaneous shower for bride-elect Miss Joan Arceneaux.

Christmas arrangements decorated the home for the occasion and gifts were presented to the bride-elect by Emily Mollere and Laurie Lynch.

Miss Arceneaux chose for the occasion a tulle frock and was presented a Christmas corset.

The wedding of Miss Arceneaux and Mr. Justin LeVasseur will be an event of December 28 in Lafayette, La.

The bride's aunt Mrs. Russell Trahan of New Orleans was among the out-of-town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. James Zimmerle and children will leave December 26 to visit over the holidays with relatives and friends in Baton Rouge.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Von Metz radi left Tuesday for Baird, Texas, where they will spend the Yule holidays with friends.
